Aspiring product designer with a way with words. I balance my time between both crafts and am always looking to learn more.

EXPERIENCE

MAY 2015 – JULY 2016

ART TEACHER, FREELANCE

- Taught young adults one-on-one, providing a thorough and easily understood approach that made even complete strangers to drawing appreciate it and improve at the craft. Secondary school student preparing for 'O' levels raised her grade from an F to an A.
- Drew demonstrations on the spot and in rapid time for whatever the student was curious about, benefiting them greatly as they see art happen in front of their eyes. Gave advice on the best materials to use and how to use them effectively.

SEPTEMBER 2014 – FEBRUARY 2015

INTERN, ASIAONE.COM

- Coded and uploaded news articles
- Sourced and captioned photographs to accompany articles published on the site
- Managed photo galleries by uploading and organizing photos, attached galleries to relevant articles for readers' convenience
- Re-wrote and published press releases, such as company promotions and police advisories, to make them easier to read by the public
- Promoted clients by publishing reviews of relevant products, mainly food

ACTIVITIES

Resourceful, enthusiastic and versatile artist. When I create, I employ both digital and traditional mediums in projects, sometimes a mixture of both, such as Copic markers and digital painting. I'm always happy to try a new material or start a new project. I analyze projects quickly and determine the most efficient way to achieve a satisfying result. I dislike waste and think that things can always be streamlined. I love flowers, cats, and chocolate. I also enjoy cycling and am somewhat of a foodie.
